Robert J. Scott Has Been Recognized Among the Top in His Industry by the Expert Network©

PRESS RELEASE UPDATED: MAR 7, 2017

The Expert Network© celebrates its newest member, Attorney Robert J. Scott

Southlake, TX, March 7, 2017 (Newswire.com) - Robert J. Scott, Managing Partner, Scott & Scott, L.L.P., has joined The Expert Network©, an invitation-only service for distinguished professionals. Mr. Scott has been chosen as a Distinguished Lawyer™ based on peer reviews and ratings, dozens of recognitions, and accomplishments achieved throughout his career.

Mr. Scott outshines others in his field due to his extensive educational background, numerous awards and recognitions, and career longevity. After obtaining his Juris Doctor from the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University, he started off his career primarily focusing on litigation, doing legal research and brief writing for a company in Long Island called Law Finders. Though overall it was a great experience for him, it wasn't until he shifted towards technology law that he knew he had found the right field. Since those early days, Mr. Scott has been the recipient of many prestigious accolades, including Technology Lawyer of the Year by Lawyer Magazine, Full Service Technology Law Firm of the Year by ACQ5 Magazine, and Technology Law Firm of the Year by both Finance Monthly and Lawyers Worldwide.

With 18 years dedicated to law, Mr. Scott brings a wealth of knowledge to his industry and in particular to his area of specialization, technology and intellectual property law. When asked about his journey pursuing a career as an attorney, Mr. Scott said:

"After the first year in law school I was convinced that I would never be a lawyer, but my mom told me the first year was the hardest. Then I got through the second year and I was absolutely convinced that I was not going to be a lawyer and that my calling was in business as an entrepreneur. Again my mom talked me through it, convincing me that I couldn't quit when I was already two-thirds of the way done. I am so thankful for my mother's support at the time, because now I love being a lawyer and couldn't imagine doing anything else."

"Every day we are working on the cutting edge of IT and law. It's like a symbiotic circle; our clients rely on us to do the legal work for the transactions that are driving the IT industry forward. Our clients help keep our finger on the pulse of the market."

Representing mid-market and large enterprise companies in software license transactions and disputes with major software publishers, Mr. Scott strives to deliver superior service with the highest level of integrity and honesty. Over the last ten years his firm has grown into a nationally recognized boutique law firm, providing services where law and technology intersect better than any standalone law firm or technology services firm could provide independently. Mr. Scott has used that growth as a tool to give back to the community and is currently most active with the Westlake Academy Foundation.

As a thought-leader in his field, Mr. Scott keeps a close eye on prevailing trends in the technology law space. In particular, he mentions that one of the things that helps his firm is the fact that their clients are the very companies that drive the IT industry. He noted:

"Every day we are working on the cutting edge of IT and law. It's like a symbiotic circle; our clients rely on us to do the legal work for the transactions that are driving the IT industry forward. Our clients help keep our finger on the pulse of the market."

Mr. Scott is a member of the Dallas Bar Association, including its Computer Law Section, and the State Bar of Texas, where he is a Data Security and Privacy Committee Member. Mr. Scott is also a board member of the Managed Service Providers Alliance.
